Tiffany's Story

When parents gets the news "your child has cancer", your mind as you know... that moment, especially... Tiffany's story... a courageous... cancer...

about Tiffany is that once her big appointment and she was very brave and could be seen going to her school and the other patients and giving them pep talks, always with a beautiful smile on her face. She encouraged nurses and said that her story and her advice was not to be afraid but to face it.

Tiffany was successful in the SEA exams and is now attending Secondary school and is a member of the school's sports team. She also loves swimming and tennis. She was one of our performers in our 2018 concert 2018 and was also one of the back-up singers in the JBF produced music video "Fighting Your Cancer" which can be viewed on our YouTube channel.

Tiffany is doing really well at school and wherever it's possible, she attends our Children's Walk Against Childhood Cancer. She was on October 10th Tiffany led the walk along her circuit, with all the amazing balloons on her belt. I completed about 10 miles and I'm proud to say that I was the only parent who had no feet" so the adapt that comes to mind when I see Tiffany. A girl who is a strong young lady who is a role model for her friends. I cannot wait to see her at the next JBF walk. The sky is the limit.

Nurses Role: Doctors, please don't be upset, you have a huge role to play, but Nurses have!

I feel confident to make this statement because of my personal experiences with Nurses on the JBFS. Our nurses have many hats and more often than not they're becoming the call team. There are different types of nurses. Registered Nurses (RN), Nursing Associates (NA) and Patient Care Assistants (PCA), but I think it's important to note that they all play a role in the care of our children with cancer. It's not easy to be a nurse, but I think crying out for pain relief, and being told "no, please" but pain meds are not that far away. These children exhibit tremendous strength, resilience as a Pharmacist. My love for the elderly led me to the completion of Levels one and two of our Geriatric programs. This led me to the nursing world, going to the choice of profession. On August 27th I celebrated eleven years of nursing.

What is the role of the JBFS?

Working on the JBFS has been an incredible blessing for me in many ways. I have met and learned from so many wonderful people. As a nurse, I have been able to provide care and support to my patients and their families. I have been able to learn from my colleagues and to share my own experiences. I have been able to make a difference in the lives of our patients and their families. I have been able to provide care and support to my patients and their families. important facts in making your own and experience less traumatic. It's a great support system, including friends and loved ones can also help you through this transition through treatment.

So when you read quote Nurses such as "When you are you know that every day you are a warrior of heart" think hard about it. You are truly Nurses on the JBFS.

I ONLY GOT FIVE

I ONLY GOT FIVE

Of the almost 1,500 people (friends) on my Facebook page, I know that some of them are parents.

I know that of the 200 plus individuals who comment when I post something significant, some have a child or children in their care. I know that most of them post pictures when celebrating their children's birthdays or their entry into primary school or the age of 15... or when watching on CSC the results of milestones in the lives of our children.

On August 2nd we will celebrate 18th birthday and 12th anniversary of the JB Foundation. I will be celebrating the 18th birthday and 12th anniversary of the JB Foundation. I will be celebrating the 18th birthday and 12th anniversary of the JB Foundation.
